Tradition 6

“Each AA group needs the least possible organization. Rotating leadership is the best. The small group may elect its secretary, the large group it’s rotating committee, and the groups of a large metropolitan area their central or intergroup committee, which often employs a full-time secretary. The Trustees of the General Service Board are, in effect, our AA General Service Committee. They are the custodians of our AA Tradition and the receivers of voluntary AA contributions by which we maintain our AA General Service Office at New York. They are authorized by the groups to handle our overall public relations and they guarantee the integrity of our principal newspaper, the AA Grapevine. All such representatives are to be guided in the spirit of service, for true leaders in AA are but trusted and experienced servants of the whole. They derive no real authority from their titles; they do not govern. Universal respect is the key to their usefulness.”
